ABOUT

The increase in active shooter/bombers incidents, jihadi-inspired attacks, and plots to attack police present a clear and evolving threat to American law enforcement. Our challenge in the emergency response service is to be prepared as individuals and as part of a team to counter a wide spectrum of these threats.

This conference will take a look at historical and recent real-world events; the Aurora movie theatre shooter/bomber, the interruption of a jihadi attack by a South Carolina patrol officer, right-wing bomb plots and attacks in Sacramento and Los Angeles and a look at bombing attacks on transit systems in Africa. Attendees will hear presentations on ISIS motivation and methodology and learn how European police and fire services have adapted to the threat of multi-waved attacks. The time to prepare and train is now.
